WHY NUMBER 1?

It is a typical picture of the Yoe Fence forcing fumbles or stopping backs cold, then recovering the turnover.

What is a bit unusual is this picture captures four of the biggest Yoe defensive players pouncing on one ball.

Kelvin Kelly at 230, what appears to be Jim Kohutek at 200 and Brian Wilkinson at 215 are hanging back just a bit while Ronnie Bennett at 220 gathers in the fumble. And Kenneth Scott at a mere 175 looks on.

The picture shows no ball carrier because he may have been unrown from the field so this bunch could get at the ball.

There are other big men on this undefeated Yoe club, which Friday faces winless Rosebud-Lott. Jafus White at 190, Brian Cobb at 190, Joe Smitherman at 210, Dave Fincher at 205 to name only those at the 200 mark or more are in this crowd.

It is little wonder the Yoemen have allowed only 3 points, a field goal, in district competition and only 28 points in 9 games. Rockdale's dynamite offense got 19 and Taylor got 6. And Rockdale beat Taylor only by 13-6 the other night in a AAA clash. The Yoe offense scored 49 points against the two AAA clubs.

What is also interesting is that the "little guys", those under 190, which includes not-so-small backs Joey Mondrik, Mike White, Scott, Aaron and Robert Miller, Dennis Hollas, Dave Rosemond among others in offensive slots are destroying defenses with quickness and speed three deep. And end Greg Kelley runs like a halfback.

If the Fence is awesome, this backfield depth is becoming awesome. Usually, when a game-breaking back like Jafus White is out, the offense stutters though it wins. Not this one.

The Miller brothers both have provided big-game performances, Robert getting 165 yards against Manor, a 6-2 club coming into Yoe Field. Rosemond has shown amazing quickness at 5-4 and 135 pounds. Hollas, Mike White and Mondrik have delivered touchdowns and critical gains. In fact, White may be the quickest quarterback in the AA playoffs. He runs about a 50-second quarter. With that kind of speed, he doesn't fiddle with options. He's gone 10 yards before the defense finds out he keeps the ball.

All this adds up to a major football power which, except for an eight-turnover game with Rockdale, hasn't really been tested. Several junior varsity boys are moving to the varsity bench for the playoffs, giving the Yoemen at least a full three-team complement of players.

This team at mid-season form would have drilled AA champion Newton last year for at least a couple of more touchdowns. The size is the same, but the ballhandling, the running attack and the power game is considerably broader - based than a year ago. If anything, the defense this year is capable of containing backs like Bryan's Dickey who likes to make 200 yards rushing per game.

It's nice to have everything. And Cameron has the mean-to, the muscle and the velocity to go all the AA way.

And if they continue to play one game at a time, as if each were the last, the Yoemen will be in the AA finals with somebody. And they'll win.

Ag Income Shows Decline

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Extension Agent

Milam County agricultural income for 1975 shows a decline of $1,200,000 from 1974. 1974 figures showed a total of $26,700,000 and 1975 estimates are $25,500,000 for the total agricultural picture.

Commodities showing decline in gross income were beef cattle, cotton, and grain sorghum.

Increases were noted in wheat, pecans, hay and hogs.

Other commodities fluctuated some but were basically stable.

Beef cattle and cotton were the two commodities particularly in the doldrums and this comes as no surprise to anyone. Cow sales were up some $160,000 over 1974 but this represented a sell-off of older cows.

Even though calf sales were up considerably over 1974 income from calves dropped an estimated $600,000 from 1974 and '74 was a bad year.

Total beef sales in 1974 were a little over $5 million with total beef sales in 1975 being about $4.7 million even with lquidation of cows.

Cotton acreage dropped to 17,000 acres from 1974 acreage of 31,000 acres and lint yield dropped from 250# per acre to 200# per acre this year. Total cotton income dropped from about $3.5 million in 1974 to $1.6 million in 1975.

The surprising drop was in grain sorghum income. Some 75,000 acres were planted in 1975 as compared to 60,000 acres in 1974. 1975 yields averaged about 2100 pounds per acre as compared to 1974 yields of 2800 pounds. Some 5,000 plus acres were abandoned in 1975.

Even with a slight price increase in 1975, $4.50 per cwt as compared to a 1974 average of $4.35 total income dropped $400,000. 1974 ncome from grain sorghum was $7.3 million as compared to 1975 income of $6.6 million.

Hog prices ranged from 41¢ to 60¢ per pound in 1975 showing strength throughout the year. Estimated income from hogs was $3.3 million as compared to $2.2 million in 1974. This was about the only commodity showing any substantial gain.

Pecan and hay production was up some over the county with value per unit about the same.

Wheat income increased in 1975 but this figure is misleading as the increase came as a result of increased acreage. An estimated 6,500 acres were harvested in 1975 as compared to 5,000 acres in 1974 with 20 bushel per acre average yields both years. 1974 prices were $3.50 per bushel as compared to $3.05 in 1975 at harvest time. Total wheat income rose to $434,000 as compared to $420,000 in 1974.

Incomes noted in this report are of course estimated and they are gross incomes. With increased inputs to produce these products the net income loss will be substantially more than the gross income loss of $1.2 million.

Trustees Hear Report On Gym, Decide To Keep Smith Home

The renovation of Yoe gym is moving along well, according to a report by Supt. Buddy Dulin to school trustees Mondav night.

He said shower and toilet walls are complete and painting is ready to start in the dressing rooms. Floor coverings will be laid soon, he said, and foundation for the concession stand has been prepared.

Dulin said workers are ready to start on the science labs on the gym's second floor. The inside of the gym has been painted Dulin said and the floor has been leveled for the concession area.

He told trustees that new steel doors should be ordered for the four entrances to the gym and these will cost about $560 for all four, which will have to be custom made.

In other business, trustees discussed disposition of the Oxsheer Smith home, which was deeded to the school. It has been rented, but is vacant now. Architect John Allen told trustees it would cost from $10,000 to $12,000 to completely renovate the house.

Allen cited leaks in the walls, air conditioning and heating ductwork, and need for a modernized kitchen. He also made an inspection of the superintendent's home, which also needs a few repairs.

Discussion centered on whether to sell the Smith property or keep it for renting or school use. A motion was offered to sell the property but a secret ballot resulted in 4 no votes and 3 yes votes.

Another motion was to make the Smith property the superintendent's home and rent the present superintendent's home to Coach Ed Cauley. This drew another secret ballot and resulted in 6 yes and 1 no.

Trustees approved a textbook committee and accepted the resignation of Becky Thompson, a kindergarten teacher, effective at mid-term. Trustees also granted a leave of absence to Diane Anderson, first grade teacher.

The subject of patrols for street crossings at the schools was discussed, along with the possibility of making Tenth Street a one-way street during the time students are picked up by parents. It was noted that fifth graders are not old enough for manning patrols at the elementary schools.

Trustees will ask city council help and also help from the police chief in having an officer patrol the area of greatest congestion.

Tax collector Theo Aschenbeck reported tax collections are about the same as last year, and was granted permission to subscribe to a tax advisory service.

Police Report

3 Accidents

City police reported three accidents over the weekend with only one person injured.

He was J. K. Wilkerson of Cameron, a passenger in a car driven by Roy Henderson of Cameron which collided with another driven by Lee Ramirez of Cameron. Wilkerson was treated and released from St. Edward Hospital. The accident occurred at 11 p.m. Saturday at Eighth and Jefferson.

Another collision at noon Sunday at Fourth and Fannin damaged cars driven by Leon Cox of Gatesville and Phillip McCall of Killeen. No one was hurt.

The third accident inflicted heavy damage to cars driven by Brian Wilkinson of Cameron and Joe Stanley Kirk, also of Cameron. The cars collided at the intersection of Seventh and Milam around 3 p.m. Sunday. Again no injuries were reported.

Highway Dept. Announces New Route For US 190

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has announced a new route for US 190 between Hearne and Cameron.

The new route commences at the intersection of US 79 (Brown Street) and SH 6 in Hearne. US 190 will then follow US 79 west to the intersection of SH 36 west of Milano; then along existing SH 36 to Cameron.

With the completion of US 79 between the Brazos River and Gause a more modern type of facility now exists, creating a safer route for the public traveling on US 190.

The old route of US 190 from 2 miles north of Hearne to the intersection of US 77 north of Cameron has now been changed to FM 485.

Another route change announced by the Department is that FM 2095 will be from Gause to US 77 & US 190 near the Little River southeast of Cameron. This is the route from Gause to Hanover to Cameron.

The route from Milano to the intersection of FM 2095 at Hanover has been designated as FM 3242.

Commissioners View County Transit Plan

The Texas Highway Department will make a survey in Milam County to determine if a transit system is needed, county commissioners were told at a regular meeting Monday morning.

County Judge O. B. Harden said such a busing system would be 100 percent funded and would not cost the county anything. Harden said he told the highway department that probably the only use for a transit system would be to take commuting Alcoa workers back and forth to work. The system would need an agency to operate it, Harden said.

In other business, commissioners heard Constable J. T. Morgan request an increased expense account because of rising gasoline costs. He also requested a radar unit for his car so he can control speeders in Gause and Milano.

A new radar unit has been requested for the Rockdale patrol car; however, funds are not included in the budget. Morgan said he could use the old one in his car if a new one is purchased. No action was taken on his requests.

Commissioners also dicusssed the fact that the drivers license division would not be meeting in Rockdale since they will not have an office available. Rockdale drivers may have to travel to Cameron and this may necessitate the drivers license officers putting in an extra day here to take care of the drivers.

Judge Harden showed pictures of wet spots on the walls of the new jail, where water from the roof gutters is spilling down the walls instead of running down the drain. He said water was also standing on top of the buiding. This will be handled with the architect and the builder as the building i s guaranteed for one year.

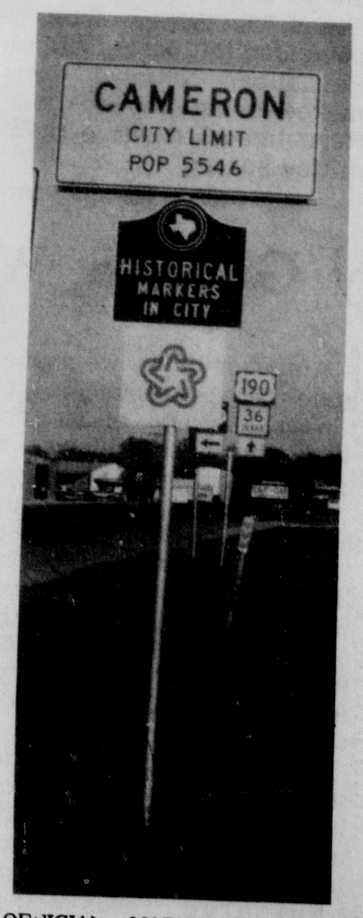
Judge Harden told commissioners of an offer by John Lee McCoy of California to give the county some land for public use, such as a park. Commissioners noted that the county has no money to spend on developing such land, and tabled acceptance.

A letter was put in the minutes certifying that three Milam justices of the peace had completed a course in September.

Commissioners approved expenditure of $150 for County Auditor John Andres to attend an auditor's convention in San Antonio.

And they adopted a resolution and order approving the plat of a subdivision called Silver Springs Ranches which is being developed in Milam and Burleson counties.

Last order of business was the canvassing of election returns for the November 4 constitutional election.



OFFICIAL MARKER designating Cameron a National Bicente City has been installed at trances to the city. The the symbol at the bottom signs.

Two-Party Texas?...

Gov. Dolph Briscoe was scheduled Tuesday to be the first witness before a fact-finding public forum chaired by Vice-President Nelson Rockefeller in Austin.

It was one of a number of forums called by President Ford as a fact-finding symposium in economic recovery, resource development and environment, social policies and community building.

The press was heavy in attendance at this Texas appearance of the now-lame - duck Vice - President. Rockefeller has resigned as a potential runningmate for Gerald Ford in 1976.

It was good to see the Governor leading off. Four members of the Ford cabinet were scheduled to hear other testimony from expert and public witnesses in separate hearings Tuesday afternoon.

This forum was for Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. The fact hearings were in Austin says much about the importance of Texas in the national and Southwest scheme of things, particularly only a year before a presidential election.

We can't help but wonder where Mr. Briscoe was when the fact-finding was underway on the Texas Constitution he stood so four-square against.

Mr. Briscoe might note developments within the Texas GOP. Another opponent of a new constitution in Texas, though it may be coincidential, lost a bid for Republican National Committeewoman in the State Republican Executive Committee Sunday.

She was State Senator Betty Andujar, of Fort Worth, the only woman, and a Republican, in the Texas Senate. Sen. Andujar was defeated 33-30 by Pat Archer, wife of Houston congressman Bill Archer.

Houston provided considerable leadership for the constitution, though it was not Republican. In fact, Houston voted like the state against the eight-part proposal.

State GOP chairman Ray Hutchinson, of Dallas, presided at the Republican meeting. And you might have thought the Dallas domination of GOP leadership would continue. But no. A Dallas spokesman acknowledged the Houston GOP voting power in recent elections. Senator John Tower favored the Houstonian. Rep. Hutchinson favored a new constitution.

Point is the power shift of the minority party is going to the Gulf Coast, where the numbers are. That is also where much of the Texas Democratic leadership is, where Republican George Bush and John Connally operate.

It means a two-party orientation in Texas' largest metropolitan area, the one growing toward Los Angeles and Chicago proportions.

And it means in a few years, perhaps while Dolph Briscoe is governor, that he presides over a two-party state.

Mr. Briscoe may turn the reins of Texas government to a Republican first as he was testifying Tuesday before a Republican vice president.

'By George, We've Got It'...

Among others, we appreciate the announcement toward the end of the Yoe 48-0 win last Friday night over Manor.

The public address announcer said something like: "We've not said anything like this before tonight, but we would like to salute the No. 1 team in Texas AA football, the No. 1 band in AA high schools and a No. 1 community."

That kind of accolade during a football game in Texas is special. Seeing No. 1 beyond the field goal posts is almost immaterial to the dedicated Texas football fans.

Among others, we have ... at this dedication to a sport to establish the same dedication to a community. And with that announcement of simultaneous success for football, band, and town, "By George, I think we've got it."

The Yoemen are playing their last regular season game Friday night at Rosebud-Lott, a school with a winless season to this point. The Yoemen have convinced the most ardent sports cynic of their stature. The band is most convincing with a half-time show winning a couple of standing ovations. And the town is as proud of itself as it is of both of these.

As a matter of fact, we have something here, all three.

Panel Questions Possible Tax Bill

The chairman of the Texas House of Representatives tax panel questioned whether a new tax bill will be required in the legislature of 1977.

The state has escaped new taxes for two legislative sessions, but most projections have indicated a record revenue measure will be required at the next session.

"My personal belief is that a tax increase is not going to be required at the next session of the legislature," Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington told a seminar on the state tax structure. Wyatt is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Jails Studied

Only half a dozen county jails met all Health Department standards during the last six years, the new Texas Commission on Jail Standards was told last week.

The Commission met here to discuss how it can go about getting public support for upgrading jails.

A Health Department officer said only counties whose jails had a perfect score were Childress, Gillespie, Howard, Lynn, Milam, and Oldham. Eight others had a single violation out of a list of 30 items checked.

The Commission has enforcement power, can order sub-standard jails closed and transfer prisoners to other facilities.

Patient Load Drops

Patient population at Texas mental hospitals has dropped 18.1 per cent in the last year, to 6,944.

The admission rate, meanwhile, increased to 19,797 from 18,413. Community-based facilities close to patients' homes and improved treatment programs were credited with reducing the number of long-term residents.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court held businesses have a right to jury trial when the state sues them for deceptive trade practices.

In another case, the High Court called for a new trial of a Galveston area woman's suit arising from burn injuries when natural gas came out of her kitchen sink water faucet.

By a divided verdict, the Court affirmed a $303,126 ruling against the widow of the owner of a rental and supply firm which rented scaffolding from which workmen fell during construction of a Galveston school a decade ago.

In still another ruling, the High Court held a disbarment suit against the district attorney for the U.S. Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands should be tried in Lubbock. The lawyer moved from Lubbock in 1972.

Federal courts delayed mailing of notices to voters that they must obtain new voting certificates by January 31.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said ownership interests of Austin and San Antonio in a proposed $1 billion nuclear power plant in Matagorda County are exempt from property taxes.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- A claim for reimbursement to a state hospital for support and maintenance of a patient is not barred by the two-year statute of limitations.
- A sheriff should rearrest an out-of-county man previously released after original arrest only on appropriate judicial order.

Appointments

Mrs. Marvin Selig of Seguin and Doug DeCluitt of Waco are Texas deputy campaign directors for President Ford.

Ed Palm of Fort Worth, Mrs. George Gray of Dallas, Don Jansen of Houston, Arthur Troilo of San Antonio, Mrs. Leon Richardson of Beaumont and Mrs. Jeanne Root of El Paso are Ford's regional coordinators, designated by Campaign Director Beryl Buckley Milburn of Austin.

Short Snorts

Harry Burleigh resigned as executive director of Texas Water Development Board.

Texas business activity increased 12 per from August to September, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The State Insurance Board sees no danger of insurance firm insolvencies due to investment in New York City bonds, according to Chairman Joe Christie.

AFL-CIO leaders are pushing for a corporate income tax next time big money is needed to run state government.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. reported no instances of voter discrimination, intimidation or coercion in the November 4 consitutional revision election.

A total of $13.7 million in federal Economic Development Administration funds have been approved to help create jobs for 2,500 Texans.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Now that things have quieted down and all the big city columnists have said all they can think of about the dangers to a president as he travels around the country, I have assembled a few thoughts.

As I understand it, Presidents claim they have to travel around the country to get the feel of things, to find out what people are thinking, and the danger of some nut shooting them is just one of the hazards of the office.

But there's another and a lot safer and cheaper way of doing it. Like it is, the President gets in Air Force One, which I understand costs $3,000 an hour to operate, and flies to a distant city. Behind his plane is woother place carrying reporters and camera crews, behind that another carrying his bullet-proof limosine and 30 or 40 Secret Service men, and ahead of all of them, for all I know, is another place making sure the entourage doesn't hit any whooping cranes or bald eagles. Prior to this, of course, another plane has brought a load of Secret Service people to scout the city, line up every local policeman available to guard the procession's route after the plane lands, and, when they don't forget it, check the city's stop lights.

After the President has delivered his speech at some hotel, he comes out and starts shaking hands with the people pressing against the ropes or the steel fence His conversation with the people consists of saying "Hello. Gland to see you" or "How are you?" with no chance for you really to tell him how you are. He doesn't know whether you have lujbago or a suggestion on how to help New York.

Here's where my suggestion comes in. Don't fly the President to the people. Fly the people to the President. If he wants to know what the people in Detroit are thinking, for exapmple, pick out a small cross section of the people there, search them thoroughly, and fly them to the White House. Next week pick Chicago, then Los Angeles, then Peoria, then Cameron, etc. I'd advise him not to pick New York, for the time being.

If, as some pundits claim, television exposure is really what a President is after, I think the networks would be tickled to set up their cameras in the White House. Be a lot cheaper than sending them all over the nation.

For one-twentieth of what the present system is costing, with all the assassination dangers eliminated, the President can sit in the Oval Office or around his swimming pool and find out what the people are thinking. You might be working up a list of people from here who ought to go.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Fed Cattle Continue Down

Despite lower supplies of fed beef and an increase in beef consumption, fed cattle prices will probably continue to decline during the next few weeks, predicts Dr. Ed Uvacke, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Some economists feel that increased demand will keep fed beef prices up as high as those of lost summer, but Uvacek does not believe demand has changed much in the past few months.

"In July of this year Choice beef retailed for $1.61 per pound. Prices now are about $1.53 per pound, even though the increase in per capita beef consumption was only up a small degree."

The proportion of beef fed this year compared to the total cattle slaughter is at its lowest level in 10 years. The amount of Choice beef consumed, therefore, should also be correspondingly lower, points out the specialist with the Texas A&M University System. Grass-fed beef, however, will be in large supply for the rest of the year.

Uvacek says that unless high fed cattle prices are followed by high retail prices, the price of live cattle must drop.

Preliminary estimates of per capita beef consumption during the July-September period indicated about 30.3 pounds per person while the retail price for Choice beef was $1.57 per pound, notes Uvacek. He predicts that per capita consumptio for the last quarter of the year--October through December--wil l go up to 35 to 36 pounds per person while retail prices will fall to $1.49 to $1.50 per pound. Much of this consumption will be from other beef rather than fed beef.

"It will be hard to keep fed cattle prices up with this large a gain in consumption," says Uvacek. "Remember, we consume all of the beef we produce. The only real question is at what price will we consume it. In general, higher production, in the short run, means higher consumtpion and consequently lower prices.

"If nonfed cattle slaughter is as high in October and November as it's expected to be, fed cattle prices could go from their current levels down to the low $40s within the next two months."

Ag Exports Mean More Business

Two dollars for one! That's what happens when agricultural products are exported.

"In addition to being the main contributor to the United States' trade balance, agricultural exports spawn added business activity in the country," points out Dr. Russell McDonald, a marketing economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Agricultural products at the port of shipment were worth $22 billion last year and generated an additional $21 billion worth of business in the U.S. in the form of goods and services needed to produce these exports. This means that for every dollar's worth of agricultural exports, almost another dollar was generated in other areas of the economy." notes the Texas A&M University System economist.

The $21 billion spinoff included $6 billion in the farm sector, $2 billion in food processing, $5 billion in other manufacturing services, $2 billion for trade and transportation, and $6 billion for various other services. According to U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates, about 70 percent, or $15 billion accured to non-farm segments of the economy.

Cotton Report

Trading for the week ending November 7 was inactive, reports J. B. Russ, officer in charge, Austin Classing Office. According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, extremely small quantities of cotton have sold in the Brazos River Bottom area, while the Central Texas Blacklands small lot s of grades 42 and 52, staples 31 and 32, mike 3.5-4.9 have sold for 39 to 40.50 cents. Cottonseed prices range from $95 in the Central Texas Blacklands to $105 along the Brazos River Bottom.

The world's shortest river probably has the shortest name. It's the 440 foot D River in Oregon.

Oil Decontrol May Mean Sharp Food Price Rise

What would happen to the price of food if oil prices controls were lifted?

"Decontrol of oil or lifting price controls would have the effect of raising food prices by about 7 percent," believes Dr. Wayne Hayenga, an economist in management for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Hayenga used price increases prepared by the Office of Economic Impact, Federal Energy Administration, to determine the effect of higher energy costs on food prices.

"In 1971, energy costs made up about 5.2 percent of the retail price of food," he says. "Since 1971 energy costs have gone up 23 percent more than food costs, so that the energy percentage of retail food costs reached 6.4 in 1974."

Another method Hayenga used to determine a ratio of energy costs to food prices was to multiply the amount of energy consumed in the food system in 1970, 6.2 quadrillion BTUs, by the average cost of energy in 1974, $2.07 per million BTUs, then divide this amount by 1974 estimates of total retial food sales plus agricultural exports. This gives a figure of 7.8 percent.

An average of the two percentages gives a ratio of about 7 percent, says the economist with the Texas A&M University System.

"This means that about seven cents out of a dollar spent on food goes to energy costs.

"Whether increased energy costs will be passed on to consumers and how soon depends on pricing policies of wholesalers and retailers, circumstances in the food market, and elasticity of demand for food (change in consumption in response to change in price)," Hayenga points out.

Since consumers must continue to buy food even with higher prices, food processors, wholesalers, and retailers wil l be able to pass on their energy costs to consumers.

"However, farmers will suffer most from the higher energy costs," believes the economist. "They have no way of passing on their higher costs in the short run. They are dependent on tractors, combines, and other machinery which uses gasoline and diesel fuel, and these fuels are going to get more expensive."

Nuts To You... Somewhat Better... One More Time.

Pecan harvest is now in various stages throughout the state, and most areas are expecting a good to bountiful crop. Texas will produce about one-fourth of the nation's pecans this season. Nationwide, there'll be a 75 per cent increase in pecan production compared to a year ago.

The quality of the crop continues to vary. Many crops are weighing out lighter than originally anticipated because of damage from disease and insects.

HARVESTING OF MAJOR CROPS and fall planting of others is nearing an end as farmers hurry to finish chores before winter arrives.

Recent rains have helped much of the wheat crop which has been planted. Wheat seeding for the state is virtually complete as is oat planting. With the recent moisture, these fields will be available for grazing. Livestock generally are continuing to hold up well despite short grazing and declining pasture conditions.

Much of the 1975 cotton crop has yet to be harvested. About a third of the crop has been gathered thus far, which is about on schedule with recent years.

Most of the crop on the High Plains is ready for harvest. Completion in the Blacklands has been delayed by recent rains and cool weather.

The state's major commodities in grains -- corn and grain sorghum -- are nearing the final harvest stages.

Sorghum harvest is virtually finished, as is corn. One of the highest per acre corn yields in history will be recorded in Texas this year. Storage facilities for the crop had caused some temporary delays.

Soybeans, still a fairly new crop for some areas of the state, are also making good progress; that crop is about two-thirds harvested. Good to excellent yields are reported in the High Plains and along the Upper Gulf Coast, but yields in the Blacklands have been short.

Meanwhile, in the Rio Grande Valley, the citrus crop is moving into higher harvest tempo. Grapefruit movement, however, has been show due to a dull market. Quality of the crop continues to be good. Trees are in good to excellent condition.

BRUCELLOSIS CONTINUES TO BE A MAJOR TOPIC of conversation among livestock producers throughout the state. A quarantine of Texas livestock is threatened by federal authorities. Several beef cattle organizations have requested a Congressional study of the federal brucellosis program.

THIS YEAR WILL GO IN THE RECORD BOOKS as one of those years in which the screwworm caused a lot of trouble. Freezing weather will wipe out the problem in the nothern half of the state. But the pest will continue to be a headache for producers in South Texas.

Screwworm officials at the fly lab in Mission continue to remind livestock producers to check their cattle regularly, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm control remedies, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, and continue to submit suspected samples of screwworms to the fly lab at Mission.

Bio-Feedback, Human Voluntary Body Control Being Studied

Question: What is the only creature in the world that ca.. swim a mile, walk 20 miles, then climb a tree?

Answer: Man.

British scientist J.B.S. Haldane once made that observation about man. An earlier countryman of his, named Shakespeare, put it more eloquently:

"What a piece of work is a man! how noble in reason! how infinite in faculty! in form and moving how express and admirable! in action how like an angel! in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the world! the paragon of animals!"

Science of Biofeedback

The first National Geographic Society televison special of the 1975-76 season takes an intimate look at man's body, "The Incredible Machine." The hour-long color program will be presented on the Public Broadcasting Service network on October 28 by station WQED, Pittsburgh, with a grant from Gulf Oil Corporation.

The program explores the newly developing science of biofeedback, which utilizes that most complex of all living organisms, the human brain.

Recent knowledge indicates that the brain is capable of giving humans voluntary control over their bodies to a greater degree than ever thought possible.

Using sophisticated electronics, researchers have developed techniques--called biofeedback--enabling individuals to alter various bodily functions.

By listening to a beeper device activiated by heartbeat, for example, a man can learn to vary the rate at which his heart pumps. "We never thought that we could do this before," said Dr. Barbara Brown, chief of experimental physiology at the Veterans Administraion Hospital in Sepulveda, Calif.

Body on Automatic

"Medical science has acknowledged that most of our body runs on automatic. It's automatically regulated," she explained. "Now, what biofeedback has shown to us is that we can mobilize some higher mental function to supervence, to intervene, in an automatically related body function, such as blood flow or blood pressure, and bring it under our own voluntary control, at will.

"We can apparently work with almost everything in the muscle system. Almost everything is enervated by what is called the autonomic nervous system--all the vital functions. . .In the future is the control of various brain electrical activities."

Already subjects have learned to identify and controll different types of electrical waves emanating from the brain. Dr. Brown looks to the time when a person will learn to control or cope with emotional problems.

"Certainly what we know now is that biofeedback procedures can be used to brin a great many of the disturbing illnesses under control or back to a more proper functioning. I think it's almost iimitless."

Or, as Joseph Conrad put it, "The mind of man is capable of anything because everything is in it, all the past as well as all the future.

Instruction will begin at 9 a.m. each day at the Business and Professional Women's Club house at Fourth and Milam Streets in Cameron.

The eight-hour instruction will be led by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stricker of Waco and certificates will be awarded to those who complete the course.

Economy-conscious consumers will buy "bi - purpose" turkeys this season --that's turkey big enough for Thanksgiving dinner, with lots left over for other meals, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Allow three - fourths to one pound per serving if the turkey is 12 pounds or under, or one-half to three-fourths pound per serving for a heavier bird."

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Protect leftovers from bacterial contamination by refrigerating right after dinner. Since refrigerator space is usually at a premium during the holiday season, remove meat from bones before wrapping for storage. And remember to store stuffing separately. Freeze all the meat that cannot be used within two or three days," Miss Reasonover advised.

Make broth to use in soup and casserole dishes later, she suggested.

Put bones and bits of meat and skin in a large kettle, cover with cold water. Add sliced onion and carrot, a garlic clove, spices and two teaspoons of slat. Cover and bring to a boil. Simmer two hours, then strain the broth. Refrigerate in a covered jar for two days or less.

She suggested some specific uses for the "bi-purpose" turkey.

CELEBRATION TURKEY SOUP

1/4 cup butter or marger.
1 cup chopped, cooked turkey
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 cups diced raw potatoes
2 1/2 cups cream-style corn
1 tall can evaporated milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 cup diced celery
2 cups turkey broth
1/4 teaspoon paprika
dash pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Melt butter or margarine. Add turkey and onion. Cook until onion is transparent. Add potatoes, celery and broth. Stir and cook until slightly thickened. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Then add corn, milk and seasonings. Season to taste. Garnish with parsley and serve with crackers, hard rolls or toast. Makes 8 servings.

THANKSGIVING BUFFET CURRIED TURKEY ON RICE

1 tart apple, chopped
1 small onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon powdered giner
1 cup turkey broth
1 cup milk
3 cups cut-up cooked turkey
1tablespoon lemon juice
3 cups cooked rice
orange slices as garnis

Cook apple and onion in butter or margarine until onion is transparent. Combine flour, curry powder, slat and giner. Sprinkle over apple and onion mixture and blend. Stir in broth and milk. Heat slowly and stir to prevent burning. Simmer five minutes. Add turkey and lemon juice. Season. Cover and keep hot five minutes. Serve on hot rice garnished with orange slices. Makes 4 servings.

Onions In Exciting Side Dish

Most often onions are used as a flavor ingredient only. But not so with mild Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions. Creole Onions show off their ability to be turned into an exciting side dish.

Thick slices of onion are baked until tender in a tomato-wine sauce. Bits of crisp bacon and green pepper are sprinkled over the top as a flavor accent. Delicious with fried chicken, meat loaf or roast beef.

In addition to their delicate flavor, Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions have an enormous size, giving them the title Gentle Giant. They also have excellent keeping qualities. For storage a cool dry place with good circulation is recommended. Cut onions should be wrapped and refrigerated; if chopped, they can be frozen.

Look for Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions from September through March.

Creole Onions

2 large Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish onions
Salt and pepper
2 slices bacon
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 cup tomato puree
1/4 cup dry white wine
1/4 cup water
1/4 teaspoon thyme

Peel and slice onions into 1/2-inch slices. Arrange in buttered shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Fry bacon until crisp. Drain and crumble. Add green pepper and garlic to bacon drippings. Saute a few minutes. Combine tomato puree, wine, water and thyme. Pour over onions. Sprinkle with crumbled bacon and green pepper. Bake, covered, at 375 degrees 30 to 35 minutes, or until tender. Baste occasionally with pan liquid. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BOOKS ARE NOBLE

The library is a marvelous and unique place. It can dispel your loneliness, lift your spirits, banish your worries, and transport you into another time and place.

And books literally have the power to change your life. They can stimulate your intellect, arouse your curiosity. They can lead you into more profitable and exciting work.

Without the immortal power of books, we would not know of past man and past civilizations. We would not know the creations of mankind throughout his long history of inspiration and strength.

One immortal Book offers you beauty, hope and inspiration — more than any other.

Go and find this Book. Find the strength in it, when you enter into the House of the Lord.

LARRY MAHAN: WORLD'S CHAMPION ALL-AROUND COWBOY

Conlee's Top Hand was the Number One Yielder in nine Texas official experimental stations.

A free sack of Conlee's TOP HAND grain sorghum seed. And a good Buck Knife to open it with. That's my offer.

Larry Mahan

Here's a real winner . . . a free sack of Top Hand hybrid grain sorghum from Conlee Seed of Texas . . . and, a famous Buck Muskrat Knife!

That's my offer. I'm Larry Mahan. I've misjudged a lot of broncs in my time, but there's one thing I'm sure of. . . .

When it comes to making you a bundle of profit, Conlee's Top Hand grain sorghum is "a cut above the rest".

Top Hand is a yellow endosperm, medium to early maturing hybrid. It's disease and drouth tolerant, and it comes on strong with irrigation.

Top Hand produces big, high quality heads that dry fast, thresh clean. And, it really stays with the Texas weather 'cause it has an extra large root system that's stout as a bull.

Plant Top Hand this season. Convince yourself it'll out perform all the rest. See your seed dealer about my offer right away. A free sack of Conlee Top Hand . . . and a $13.00 Buck Muskrat Knife any man would be proud to carry.

See your dealer or call
Conlee Seed, Texas Toll Free 800-792-2215

HERE IS WHAT SOME TOP CENTRAL TEXAS MILO GROWERS SAY:

IRA BELL, JR.—BASTROP
I planted Top Hand row and broadcast for the 1975 crop year. Row yielded 4000 lbs. and broadcast 3500 lbs. I've planted Top Hand for 6 years and will plant all of my acreage in it again for 1976.
The combiners say it thrashed real good and cleaned out mighty good. I would recommend it.

E.C. BOECKER—BUCKHOLTS
Top Hand yields as well or better than any other hybrid I've planted and it is consistant year in and year out.

FRED RICHTER—THRALL
I like Top Hand because it is consistant. It's about the highest yielding hybrid we have found for year after year production.
In 1975 we got a good stand the first time we planted, and several of my neighbors had to replant their competitive hybrids.
IN A WORD—IT'S DEPENDABLE.

MARVIN LENZ—TAYLOR
I plant Top Hand because year in and year out it has been one of the highest producing hybrids I have found. I like the short, sturdy stalks, and excellent root system.
After all—a top yield is great but it has to be in the elevator before you can cash it in.

CONLEE It's a cut above the rest.

SPORTS

SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By FORREST GUESS

ONE MORE . . .

That is, one more district game for the Cameron Yoemen before they enter the play-offs. The Yoemen will meet the district winner in District 24AA.

Our guess will be Llano. Llano's record for the season stands 7-2, scoring 218 points to their opponents 67. In the district standings they are 3-0 scoring 102 points to their opponents 22.

Llano will play Burnet (last year's district champs) in the final district game. If Burnett wins the game it will then be a three-way tie. The tie would include Brady, who is 2-1 in district, along with Burnet, 2-1 season.

Brady has a season record of 3-6 while Burnett is 5-4. In theory if Brady wins Friday and if Llano gets beat by Burnet, the district champs would be decided by a flip of the coin.

Can you imagine? Brady becoming the district champs with a 4-6 season record? Well, just a few years back Brady represented that district, as I understand, with a 3-7 season record.

MEMORY LANE. . .

The following was taken from the Nov. 14, 1974 edition of the Herald Sports:

"The end of an impressive season will end this week against the Rosebud-Lott Cougars. The seniors will be playing for the last time in the Maroon and Gray as the hopes of a Caldwell defeat looks very unlikely."

I suppose we should become optomists. Anything can happen, even when looking at the impossible. I even suppose there is some hope for New York City!

MILAM COUNTY. . .

Let's not forget the fine job that the Rockdale tigers are doing in their district race. . Coach Fred johnson's Tigers have really rolled past their district opponents and racked up points like a wild pinball machine. With the district opponents only able to read 'TILT' after the game.

What could be greater than two Milam County teams going all the way?

I'll be pushing for a twin reading of Milam County teams' claiming district championships after wins this Friday night.

Great job, Coach Johnson!

CAULEY SAID. . .

"We threw the bal a little more than usual against Manor. Our timing is still off and we are going to work on the passing game more for the coming weeks.

"We had a real good game in that it did get sloppy. After having a high scoring half sometimes you get sloppy and that is when you get people injured.

"Very few times when a person is going full speed will an injury occur. So I told the young men that I wanted them to go full speed to prevent injuries.

"We had 32 players that got into the ball game. Jafus and Stanley were out because of their injuries. We wanted to give them time to heal before they got back into the game.

"One positive mark about the team is that they are improving. We must continue to get better, and I feel we didn't do this against Hearne. They all play a lot of pride and it's a pleasure to work with them.

"I don't like to beat people in the ground, but you must keep your timing. But again, you don't wat to get anyone injured. So it is difficult to know which is best.

"All I can say is that we intend to play a lot of people this Friday night.

"Rosebud-Lott has got some size and their backs are real big. The y aren't as quick but they are big. They will throw the ball and have many different offensive sets to run from.

"Being the last game for them I know they will be looking for a win."

Undefeated Yoe Faces Winless Cougars In Finale

Sweeping out the basement in District 23AA are the Rosebud-Lott Cougars who have suffered a winless season. It will be Cameron , 9-0, ranked first in the state, versus Rosebud-Lott 0-8-1 The nearest the Cougars have come to the win column was a tie with Elgin early in the season.

Looking back to their '74 season the Cougars amassed a 4-6 record. The team returned 5 offensive and 7 defensive regulars.

The Cougar offensewill be running from several offensive sets including the Wing, I-Wing, Strong Flanker, Flanker, Slot, and maybe even the ouble Wing.

To do the running will be a combination of Warren, Skala, and Johnson who weight averages 177 pounds. The line will be coming off with an average weight of 181.

Quarterback C. E. Wolfe will be guiding the Cougars in the ir final game of the season. Wolfe has the ability to stand in the pocket and pinpoint end James Thornton.

It will be a good chance to dig their way out of the hole that seems to be deeper than the Bottomless Lakes and a win over the top ranked Cameron Yoemen would taste as sweet as a district championship for the thirsty Cougars.

An average defensive weight of 186 pounds will be setting across from the Yoe offense. The Cougars defense has given up 128 points in district play.

The defense will include the 5-4, 4-3, and the 6-1. The Cougar secondary will be depending on their backs Rice and Johnson to hold off an aerial attack.

The Cougars will be hoping for as big an upset as the Temple Wildcats performed on the top ranked Bryan Vikings only one week ago.

Or even more an upset that was staged one year ago in Elgin as the Wildcats unseated the Caldwell Hornets.

The kickoff time has been scheduled for 8 p.m. at Cougar Stadium at Travis.

TRAVEL TIPS AND TRICKS

PACKING FOR PLEASURE

When packing for children, especially for the very young, make space for one or two of their favorite toys and garments. A bit of home can help soothe restless kids in unaccustomed surroundings.

Bands To Compete In UIL Contest

The Yoe High and OJ Thomas marching bands will be competing in University Scholastic League marching contests Tuesday, Nov. 18 in Hillsboro.

The OJ Thomas marching band , under the direction of Gary Beach will be competing against three other bands in their division.

This is the first time in OJT Junior High history that the band has competed in UIL marching contests. The band will be marching at 11 a.m. prior to the high school competition.

The Yoe High Band, who received a first division last year at UIL contest, will bounce onto the field at 2:30 p.m. The band will be competing with 12 other bands in the AA division.

Yoe High Band director Jerry Bartley said, "I feel we have the best chance of bringing home a first division trophy since I have been here."

Bartley said, "The competition will be judged by Bob Jordan of Highland Park (Dallas), Jim Harwell (Stephenville), and Dr. Charles Taylor of Abilene Christian College."

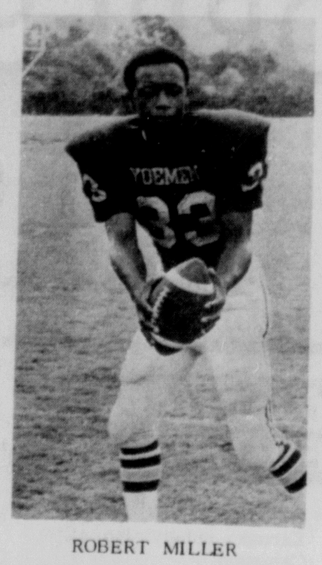
The show will be filmed in color and will be shown to the public at open house sometime after January, Bartley concluded.

He also added that he felt Rockdale would probably beat Georgetown for the district championship.

His hobbies include riding horses and fixing cars. Robert worked this past summer for the Walled Lake Door Factory.

His future plans include hopes to enter the Army.

TALENT SPOTLIGHT '75



ROBERT MILLER

Robert Miller made famous a new series of plays against the Manor Mustangs Friday night, that is. . . three carries and a touchdown. Robert is number 33 and is the back up tailback to give an added dimension to the Yoe attack.

The 18-year-old senior stands 5'10" and weighs 164 pounds to be one of the smaller Yoemen. This will be his first letter on the varsity team.

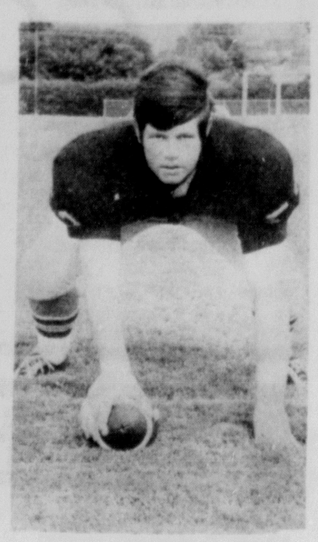
Robert has the speed to be a number one threat to the Yoe opponents clocking at 10.0 in the 100 yard dash. He is a one-year letterman in track and is a member of the Regional Sprint Relay medalist. He also runs the 220, clock time at 22.5.

He is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and plays an active part in that club.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of 408 S. Jefferson, Cameron. He has two younger brothers, Aaron (#32 on Yoe varsity) and Brent, who is 7 years old. Robert also has one sister, who is married, Mrs. Jo Anne Tezino.

I asked Robert how he feels about the season and he said, "I feel we will be in the state champsionship and win it. We have the team and the ability to do it."

Robert also added, "I think Rockdale was the toughest team that we have played so far because it is for the Bell and they wanted it."



CARL BRADLEY

Carl Bradley is the junior back up center for Brian Cobb. Carl is working for his first letter and he is a 16 year old junior.

Snapping the ball is one of the most important plays of the game and the 5'10" and 180 pound Bradley has the quickness to make the first offensive move swift and precise.

Carl played on the junior varsity last season and participated in the baseball program also.

Carl is a member of the Spanish Club and the Slide Rule Club. He is als an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

He has been selected as a member of the National Honor Society and is a member of the Yoe High Student Council.

Carl serves as his junior class vice-president and was selected as sophomore class favorite.

Carl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradley of 801 E. 15 St. in Cameron. He has two older brothers, Ricky and Danny. He also has one older sister, Carol Losey.

I asked Carl how he feels about the season and he said, "The season has developed as we have expected. It's been a lot of fun and been very rewarding."

Carl's hobbies include watching the Cowboys and watching all sports on TV. He is employed at Keith's Minimax which takes up most of his spare time.

Carl picks Notre Dame as his favorite college team and sites the Cowboys as his pro team choice.

Badgers Down Jarrell By 21

It turned out to be more than Homecoming for the Buckholts Badgers as they ran Jarrell completely out of the county with a 35-14 Saturday night win.

Tearing up the home turf Monte Williams assembled an explosive running attack that tallied 215 yards and 2 touchdowns. Also in the limelight was Danny Krall who racked up 127 yards and scored 2 touchdowns.

Buckholts had gained 302 yards rushing with an added 76 from the aerial attack. Jarrell was able to gain 220 yards rushing with 43 yards from their passing game.

Williams opened the scoring on a five yard pass from Badger quarterback Donny Gaas. Williams also scored when he plunged in from four yards out.

Both of Danny Kralls' touchdowns came on short yardage after a steady attack from the Badger's running game. Krall sailed in from 2 yards out for his first TD. His second came on a one-yard plunge.

Jarrell scores came on a 70-yard run by Steve Bamsch. Their second score came on a 29-yard pass from Bamsch to Charles Amidon.

The Badgers record now stands 4-3 for the season.
